3.4. After payment of the Remuneration, in order to receive the Contractor's goods/works/services, the goods/works/services are transferred to the Customer, including by one of the following methods:

The delivered goods are handed over to the Customer at the address specified by the Customer, and in the Customer's absence — to any person who presents information about the order number or other data identifying the order; goods handed over to a third party who presented information about the order number or other data identifying the order are deemed transferred to and accepted by the Customer. The Customer undertakes to ensure the confidentiality of the data identifying the order, and in the event of disclosure of such data independently bears the risk of the goods being transferred to third parties not authorized by the Customer to receive the goods.

3.5. The claims arising against the Contractor from the moment of conclusion of the Agreement, on the terms of this Offer, may not be transferred by the Customer to third parties, except in cases of conclusion of the Agreement for the benefit of a third party, if such a possibility is provided for on the Contractor's Website, or if this is separately agreed by the Parties upon conclusion of the Agreement on the terms of this Offer.

3.6. The Contractor has the right to engage third parties for the purpose of performing obligations under the Agreement concluded on the terms of this Offer, while retaining sole responsibility to the Customer.

3.7.2. In the case of the performance of work — at the moment the Contractor transfers the result of the work to the Customer;

3.7.3. In the case of the provision of a service — at the moment the Contractor completes the provision of the service.

3.8. In the case of the sale of goods, after the Customer receives the goods, the Contractor undertakes to issue the Customer a receipt with the "Full settlement" attribute.

3.9. In addition, the Parties have agreed that the issuance of a receipt in the case of the sale of works/services is carried out as follows:

- if the Contractor applies the cash method of accounting for income and expenses, then by concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer consents to receiving a single receipt for payment of the Contractor's works/services with the "Full settlement" attribute at the moment of full payment of the cost of the Contractor's works/services;
- if the Contractor accounts for income and expenses on an accrual basis, then the Parties have agreed that the Contractor's works/services under the Agreement concluded on the terms of this Offer are deemed rendered at the moment the Customer makes full payment for the Contractor's works/services.

3.10. The Contractor has the right not to issue a receipt to the Customer if such a right is provided for by the legislation of the Russian Federation.

3.11. The Contractor has the right to refuse the Customer the sale of the Contractor's goods/works/services, as well as to terminate access to the Resource Link, in the event of:

3.11.2. Receipt by the Contractor from the Customer of funds in an amount insufficient to pay the Remuneration;

3.13. By concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer agrees that the Customer's subjective assessment is not an objective criterion of the quality of the Contractor's goods/works/services and cannot serve as grounds for recognizing the Contractor's goods/works/services as being of poor quality, incomplete and/or not corresponding to the information received by the Customer before concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer.

3.14. By concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer confirms that:

If the Contractor has not established age restrictions for Customers on the Contractor's Website, or the legislation of the Russian Federation does not prohibit the sale of the Contractor's goods/works/services to minors, then a Customer who has reached 14 years of age has the right to conclude the Agreement provided that the Customer has the consent of a parent or legal representative to the conclusion of the Agreement by the Customer. At the Contractor's request, the Customer must provide such consent to the Contractor.

3.15. By concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer assumes all risks associated with a material change in the circumstances from which the Customer proceeded when concluding the Agreement, and agrees that such circumstances cannot serve as grounds for amending and/or terminating the Agreement and/or for the Customer's non-performance of its obligations under the Agreement.

3.16. By concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer gives the Contractor consent to the processing of their personal data, including the right to instruct a third party to process personal data. "Processing of personal data" means the Contractor's performance of any actions (operations) or set of actions (operations) performed with or without the use of automation tools with personal data, including collection, recording, systematization, accumulation, storage, clarification (updating, changing), extraction, use, transfer, including cross-border transfer (provision, access), depersonalization, blocking, deletion, and destruction of personal data, including in the Contractor's information systems. The consent given by the Customer to the processing by the Contractor of their personal data is valid until the purposes of processing the personal data are achieved and the contractual relations between the Customer and the Contractor are terminated. The consent is withdrawn by the Customer personally by sending a written application containing information about the Customer, the date the consent was given, and the grounds for withdrawal. Upon receipt of the withdrawal of consent, the Contractor ceases processing the personal data and destroys the personal data within the period determined by Federal Law No. 152-FZ dated 27.07.2006 "On Personal Data", except where the processing of personal data is required in accordance with the current legislation of the Russian Federation.

7.4. The Customer bears liability for the distribution by any means of inaccurate information regarding the goods/works/services, as well as information defaming the Contractor's business reputation.

7.5. If the Customer's unlawful actions have resulted in claims and/or lawsuits being brought against the Contractor by third parties (including regulatory authorities), and such claims and/or lawsuits have been recognized as justified (satisfied) by an effective decision of a court (arbitration court) or other competent authority (the "Decision"), the Customer must fully reimburse the Contractor the amount of the claims and/or lawsuits of third parties (including regulatory authorities) specified in the Decision.

VIII. Force majeure

8.1. Neither Party bears liability for full or partial non-performance of its obligations under the Agreement concluded on the terms of this Offer if such non-performance was the result of force majeure circumstances that arose after the conclusion of the Agreement as a result of extraordinary events that neither Party could either foresee or prevent by reasonable means. Such circumstances may include flood, fire, earthquake and other natural disasters, military actions, actions of governments and local authorities, strikes, failures in the power supply system that led to disruption of the Parties' computer systems and loss of data, and changes in legislation that arose after the conclusion of the Agreement and make its performance impossible in accordance with the newly established procedure.

8.3. The Party relying on such circumstances must, within 3 (three) calendar days, notify the other Party in writing of their occurrence and the expected duration of their effect. Confirmation of the existence and duration of force majeure is a certificate or other supporting document issued by competent authorities.

8.4. Failure to notify or untimely notification of the occurrence of force majeure circumstances deprives the Party whose performance of obligations was interrupted by these circumstances of the right to rely on them subsequently.

8.5. Upon cessation of the said circumstances, the Party must, without delay, notify the other Party thereof in writing. At the same time, the Party must indicate the period within which it intends to perform the obligations under the Agreement.

8.6. If force majeure circumstances continue to be in effect for more than 30 (thirty) consecutive calendar days, then either Party has the right to refuse to perform the Agreement concluded on the terms of this Offer, notifying the other Party thereof in writing 30 (thirty) calendar days before the intended date of cessation of performance of the Agreement.

belonging to them in accordance with the terms of this Offer. Such documents are deemed signed with a simple electronic signature.

9.2. All documents, notices, requests, claims and other communications originating from one Party may be sent to the other Party in the manner specified in clause 9.1 of this Offer. The Parties recognize the legal force of the said documents and communications. Originals of documents are sent at a Party's request by Russian Post by registered mail with acknowledgment of receipt or by courier service.

9.3. The Parties have agreed not to transfer access (login and password values) to the e-mail addresses used for exchanging electronic documents to third parties, and to independently take all necessary measures to ensure the confidentiality of access. In the event of loss of access, as well as in cases of unlawful acquisition of access to the e-mail addresses of one of the Parties by third parties, the injured Party undertakes to immediately notify the other Party thereof by sending a notice by e-mail and/or telephone. The Party that permitted a breach of the confidentiality of access to the e-mail used for exchanging electronic documents bears liability for the electronic documents sent via the said communication channels until the moment of official notification of the other Party of the breach of confidentiality.

9.4. A communication is deemed delivered even in cases where it reached the person to whom it was sent (the addressee), but, due to circumstances depending on that person, was not handed to them or the addressee did not review it.

9.5. The Parties assume all risks associated with the operability of their equipment and communication channels.

9.6. The Parties undertake to provide access to the e-mail used for electronic document flow only to persons authorized to sign documents.

9.7. To promptly inform (by e-mail and/or telephone) the other Party of all cases of technical malfunctions or other circumstances impeding the electronic document flow in accordance with this Section of the Offer.

10.2. The Contractor provides the Customer with all necessary public information by posting it on the Contractor's Website.

10.3. By concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer confirms that they fully understand that:

10.3.1. The Agreement grants the Customer the rights usually granted under agreements of this kind;

10.3.2. The Agreement does not exclude or limit the Contractor's liability for breach of obligations (in the presence of the Contractor's fault);

10.3.3. The Agreement does not contain any conditions that are clearly onerous for the Customer that the Customer, based on their reasonably understood interests, would not have accepted had the Customer had the opportunity to participate in determining the terms of the Agreement.

10.4. By concluding the Agreement on the terms of this Offer, the Customer confirms that they have reviewed the terms of this Offer and accept them without any exceptions or limitations, on an accession basis.

11.2. The Customer undertakes to review the text of this Offer, as well as additional terms or notices that may be posted by the Contractor on the Contractor's Website, for any amendments and adjustments made.
